

Microwave Frequency Warfare: The Real Cold War

Barrie Trower

In the very early 1960's I trained with the government microwave warfare establishment. I looked at all aspects of microwave warfare and when I finished my time in the military because I has a lot of expertise in the microwave field I was asked if I would carry on with this research. We are in a new Cold War and this is why countries are developing this. I mean really developing this. And this is why all the microwave transmitters are going up everywhere because somebody, if they wanted to, could use them for other effects. The system is up and running.

Years ago our government said to its scientists when it comes to microwaves you will only talk about things to do with heat, and that is it. So they won't even discuss anything else. They will deny anything that doesn't have anything to do with heat. They even deny all of their 40 years of research leading up to this, although they've said that this can cause cancer and all the damage, they say no it can't. We're only looking at heat and heat is all that matters.

So for the last 40 years the English government has been lying to the people. And the American, the Canadian, the Australian, they have been lying. They have been lying to protect industry, to protect their profits, to protect themselves from lawsuits. So they are really just liars and it is provable, sanctioned by the World Health Organization, without a shadow of a doubt. It is the same people sit on the ICNAP certificate, they sit on our governments health protection agencies sit on the World Health Organization . . . it's the same people. There are probably no more than 20 of them. But, yes, they are going to, in my opinion, commit the worst genocide this planet has ever known, not just people, but animals, plants. They are probably going to cause more destruction than a global war, and in several hundred years time, people will look back, whoever survives, and look at what we tried to do to stop them.

Operation Paperclip at the end of the war (WWII), the scientists were pardoned, most of them, they were pardoned for all of the people they had killed, experimented on. They were given new identities, mostly in the United States, lived an ordinary civilian life, very well paid, and they went to work in laboratories for the American government. And they handed over all of their research and this is where it came from. This was the basis of all of this . . . Operation Paperclip.

The Americans used their own people as initial guinea pigs to develop their own weapons and then when it was discovered what was going on there was a denial initially that you always get. Then there was a cover-up report. And finally a very renowned professor, I think he has about eighteen professorships, John Goldsmith, he wrote the definitive proper report and found that low level microwaves were causing an enormous amount of cancers, leukemia and ill-effects. And by then everybody was leaping onto the microwaves as stealth weapons and they go from there, which was the '50's right up to and including the present day.

It's been shown that a child using a cell phone, just an ordinary school child, if the child uses the phone for just two minutes, the brainwaves can take up to 2 hours to return to normal. Two hours. And that's been published. Now in those two hours, the child's brain is not acting as it should, and it could demonstrate itself in a number of ways. For instance, if the child were in school and making a quick call from the playground it could be lack of concentration, hyperactivity, bad behavior, it could be anything like that and that would slowly ease off over two hours. Now that's just from two minutes. Now if a child makes a phone call every couple of hours, the brain is going to be entrained permanently. And it has already been published by the industry that a child using microwaves just before bed will have his or her sleep totally disrupted by entrainment.

I cited, I think, 200 schools in Europe where a transmitter had been put in or near a playground where they had leukemia clusters. I've had a series of calls from officers saying that their personalities have been changed. Whenever I go to a country, and the year before I did six countries I think, last year or the year before, the questions always come around to Tetra, and they always come around to aggressive behavior from the police, because I ended up talking to each. And I said, don't tell me, I will tell you what frequencies they have been using. Now the Special Forces don't just hold them up, they're on permanently, so we're talking massive entrainment, far beyond what the ordinary person would suffer. But it has induced such a level of entrainment and violence, so I told them what frequencies I believe they would be using. I sent them documentary evidence, and the whole thing was hushed over. It was on the news but then they obviously, I would imagine, changed the frequency.

As with just one pulse frequency you can make people so suicidal they can't be bothered to act like a demonstrator anymore, all they want to do is sleep or lay in bed all day. So if you're targeting demonstrators, you make them suicidally depressed and they don't care about demonstrating anymore because they're too upset. Whereas if you want to cause a specific psychiatric illness, you would have an infrared device that followed the person and you would link it to a pencil thin microwave source so the microwave beam would always target a specific gland, or a specific part of the brain, or an eye, or a heart. So you would have them being targeted.

They can cause insanity. And it was an experiment. One of the experiments was to take an ordinary sane person, cause insanity, and have a psychiatrist who was unknown to everybody diagnose schizophrenia or paranoia or a psychiatric illness. That was a successful outcome. And the person would spend the rest of their life in an asylum in misery, but to the government scientists that was a success. Humans are like guinea pigs. If they want to experiment on you by the thousands, they will. And you can be driven to insanity and death and you just become a tick in a box without so much as a feeling. And this is what they do, and this is why they are above the law.

Voice to Skull . . . Voices are the easiest ones because all you have to do is stimulate the cochlea with a set resonant frequency. It's very easy. Voices are very easy. And it isn't people imaging voices. They physically hear them. They physically hear, as I'm talking to you, my voice isn't inside your brain. My voice goes no further than an inch into your ear. No further at all. It's the electrical signal that makes you interpret how I sound. And once you've got this electrical signal which can be a chip or lots of things, you can physically make people hear voices, certain voices, and it can be any conversation. And it can be anybody you want to hear. It can be a soft angelic voice, it can be a god, it can be something that scares you like a devil. It can be anything.

And he said, I'm an international scientist and something is really, really worrying me, and I have to tell somebody who can tell the world. Now, I actually knew what he told me was going on anyway because it had been discussed in other countries. He said it is now possible to genetically change bacterium and virus, genetically change them. You don't need more than two brain cells to work out where you go from here. Virus are neither dead nor alive, they inhabit hosts. If I put a virus inside of a dormant bacteria that I know I can spring to life, and I go to Norway on a holiday, or Denmark, or Sweden, I just spread the virus around in the forests with the dormant bacteria and I come back. And I can wait, if I like, a hundred years, two hundred years or two hours, it makes no difference to me, and then all I have to do with HAARP or a similar device is to put the frequency off the ionosphere down into Norway, whenever I feel like it, the virus will spring to life because their host has sprung to life. This is where we are. So countries can now, just by introducing bacterium and viruses and what have you, they can totally devastate the economic possibilities of another country. And I've written it, I've written it in my papers. I've said it on air on the radio. In fact, I was on international radio, it went out to 95 countries two Sundays ago, and I said that scientists at the end of the war were hanged for what scientists today are doing and getting away with, absolutely.
